

The company UHS United Heatexchanger Solution GmbH was founded in 2002 and has seen a period of constant growth since then. The idea of UHS is not only the sale of components for heat applications but that of offering complete packages as solution. Consequently, in the course of time, the company has developed into a firm offering, selling, installing, monitoring and maintaining applications, heat exchangers, pumps, controls and even complete turn-key projects tailored to customers' needs.

Our customer focus is on providing a holistic concept, from initial data acquisition to turn-key plants in the field of energy optimization.

Many years of experience in thermodynamics and measuring and control instrumentation are our guarantee for optimum solutions.
